Dear Mr. Green:

Thank you for your kind invitation to meet with the Junior Statesmen Summer School students for off-the-record remarks followed by a question and answer period at the Old Executive Office Building. A repeat invitation is indeed an honor. Unfortunately, my busy schedule as the new Director of Central Intelligence prevents me from accepting your invitation. However, the Agency's Academic Coordinator, [redacted] who speaks to university and other student groups all over the country, will be available on Tuesday, August 4th, to meet with the Junior Statesmen to discuss "Intelligence in a Democratic Society." I believe he would offer these outstanding students some interesting insight into intelligence affairs. A member of my staff will be in touch to set a time for his presentation.

Congratulations on the Junior Statesmen Summer School's 47th anniversary!

Sincerely yours,

William H. Webster
Director of Central Intelligence

Speech Invitation
The Junior Statesmen Foundation
O.E.O.B.
4 August 1987

The Director of the Speakers Program for The Junior Statesmen Foundation, Ted Green, has invited you to speak to 170 outstanding high school students who have been selected to attend the 47th annual Junior Statesmen Summer School in Washington, D.C. You are requested to make 10 minutes of remarks followed by a 10 - 20 minute question and answer period on any topic that you choose for this off-the-record session at the Old Executive Office Building. Suggested dates are July 28th or August 4th, anytime from 9:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m. The students, who will be seniors in the fall, are selected on a highly competitive basis from all parts of the country for their knowledge of public affairs. You spoke to this group in August 1985. As you may remember, you did not believe that this was an outstanding group, and indicated that you were not interested in speaking to them in the future. The media will not attend.

Since you thought that this was not a significant group in 1985, I recommend that you decline this invitation on the grounds of your busy schedule as the new Director of Central Intelligence and defer to our Academic Coordinator [redacted]. This would be a good opportunity to educate these students about the role of intelligence in a democratic society, make them aware of the Agency's various relations with the academic community and give them something to think about in connection with their future college agenda. If you agree, I have attached a letter to Mr. Green for your signature.

The Hon. William Webster

Dear Director Webster:

I am writing to invite you to meet briefly with one hundred and seventy outstanding high school students who have been selected to attend the 47th annual Junior Statesmen Summer School. Your past participation as a speaker has provided our students important insights into the operation of our government.

Ed Meese has sent you a letter outlining his many years of involvement with the Junior Statesmen program.

You are cordially invited to meet with these young leaders for a 20 to 30 minute off-the-record question and answer session. We would prefer to meet with you Thursday, July 28 or Monday, August 3 in Room 450 of the O.E.O.B. If you are unavailable on these dates, we could meet you at the Agency on Tuesday, July 21 or Wednesday, July 22. If your staff can give me a call, I am sure we can arrange a mutually convenient time.

Last year, eight members of the Cabinet, as well as many other national leaders, met with the Junior Statesmen students. I know that you will be impressed with the caliber of these young leaders and the thoughtfulness of their questions.

I hope you will be able to meet with us briefly this summer. You can reach me at our national headquarters at (415) 366-2700 until July 14 and at (202) 625-4782 after July 15.

Sincerely,

Ted Green
